

CONTEST PLANS . . . Plans for the second annual Balanced Power Architectural Scholarship contest, sponsored by the Southern California and Southern Counties Gas Companies, are discussed by (from left) Maurice L. Milks, AIA; H. C. Ley, Southern California Gas Co.; Bodrell Joer'dan Smith, I.A., and W. E. Nelson, Southern Counties Gas Co. The contest will offer a $1,000 scholarship to the top winner, plus several $100 savings bonds. The contest is open to students in colleges which do not confer a degree in architecture throughout Southern California.

Architectural Contest Under Way in Colleges

Second annual Balanced Power Architectural $1,000 Scholarship contest, sponsored by Southern California and Southern Counties Gas Companies, is currently under way for the 1965-66 school term.

All architectural students at colleges which do not confer a degree in architecture are eligible to enter the contest with the one stipulation that colleges must be located in the territory served by the two gas companies or in the cities of Bakersfield or Long Beach.

The contest, composed of a preliminary and a final competition, involves a specific problem based on a wealthy Hollywood motion picture executive's request. Design is for a luxurious indoor-outdoor living center on his spacious estate in the Santa Monica mountains. Center will be used by the family—client, his wife, and two teenage daughters—for preparing and eating meals during leisure hours and for entertaining guests in an informal atmosphere.

PRELIMINARY competition will be held at each eligible college with six or more contestants during the 1965-66 academic year. Winners in the preliminaries at each college—there may be more than one—will receive a $100 savings bond. Bonds will be awarded on the basis of one for six through 10 contestants; two for 11 through 30 contestants; three for 31 through 50 contestants, and four if there are more than 51 contestants.

The final contest will be only among the winners of the preliminary competitions. The winner will be awarded a $500 savings bond and will have a $1,000 scholarship deposited in his name with the Scholarship Committee of the American Institute of Architects.

TO QUALIFY for the scholarship, the winner must be enrolled in any accredited school of architecture or industrial design by the fall semester of 1967. If he fails to enroll, the scholarship will be given to the AIA Scholarship Committee to administer.

The winner will be chosen by a panel of five judges—four architects and the supervisor of the gas companies' kitchen planning bureau. Entries will be judged on imagination and originality, efficiency and adequacy of the plan, technical skill, and completeness in fulfilling problem. The winner will be announced the latter part of May, 1966.

Teachers Attend Chemistry Meet

Six high school chemistry teachers from Torrance represented local schools at a symposium on "New Chemistry Curricula" during a meeting of the American Chemical Society's Western region. Torrance teachers at the symposium were John Collins and Ernest Hondrick of South High, Joseph Reinhardt and Michael Tuttle of North High, David Roderick of Torrance High, and Robert Schultz of West High.

Birch Society to Hear Jose Norman Tomorrow

Jose Norman, composer, pianist, and former columnist for the Havana Post and Havana Times, will be the guest speaker tomorrow evening at a meeting of Chapter 846 of the John Birch Society. The meeting will be held at 825 Calle Miramar, beginning at 8 o'clock. The public is invited and there is no charge. Norman, who fled Cuba to seek refuge in the United States in 1960, has travelled extensively throughout the nation. He appears here under the sponsorship of the Free Enterprise Speakers Bureau of Coast Federal Savings and Loan Association.

Following the Norman address, the society will conduct its regular business session. A letterwriting period in support of winning the war in Viet Nam will follow.
